GoodsPass

Trade documents. One explainable customs workflow.

€1,000,000 seed financing · Target: before 2028 · Romania-first Built by CLARIFIED SRL, Bucharest, Romania. Our six-person team is turning fragmented trade documents into a structured, reviewable customs dossier. Non-confidential introduction · October 2026

The problem

International trade information is spread across invoices, transport documents, origin evidence and technical descriptions. Importers and their advisers repeat work, reconcile missing facts and explain decisions across disconnected tools.

GoodsPass brings that preparation into one workflow. We aim to reduce repeated data entry and preserve the reasoning behind each dossier, not to remove legal responsibilities or promise error-free automation.

How the product works

Upload commercial and transport documents → review extracted product facts → consider classification candidates and origin → evaluate valuation, tariffs and conditional obligations → review and retain the dossier.

The workflow is designed for importers, customs professionals and logistics teams. Explanations and source references accompany decisions; missing facts remain visible.

Where we are

The Romania-first product has been developed. Our next investment milestone is measured commercial validation, completion of launch-critical integrations and repeatable distribution.

We do not claim validated recurring-revenue traction, universal EU legal coverage, official filing authorisation or an existing connection to the EU Customs Data Hub. Detailed status and a synthetic-data demonstration are available in a qualified conversation.

Why this can matter

Less retyping. More consistent product and transaction records. Earlier identification of missing information. A clearer hand-off between the business and the customs professional.

Customer value will be demonstrated through permissioned pilots measuring preparation time, corrections, repeat use and willingness to pay. We do not substitute market size for proof of adoption.

The EU Customs Data Hub milestone for e-commerce in July 2028 adds urgency to better trade data. Authorised connectivity is a future development, not an existing integration. European Commission

Business model and distribution

Subscription software, with current paid list plans of €49 and €149 per month excluding VAT. Professional integrations and enterprise distribution are future commercial options to validate.

Our entry market is Romania. Expansion follows reusable country modules and demand from importers, customs/logistics professionals and software channels. No marketplace, public authority or strategic partnership is claimed.

The next product chapter

A controlled AI assistant could help users prepare and complete authorised workflow steps, starting with suggestions and reviewable actions.

Client permissions, tenant isolation and explicit approval for legally or financially consequential actions come first. Autonomous official filing is not a current product claim.

What we are raising

We seek €1 million to complete commercial development, launch in Romania, strengthen delivery capacity and establish the first repeatable European expansion and distribution pathways.

We are interested in lead and co-investors with B2B software, logistics, international trade or AI-workflow expertise. Investment structure and valuation are open for discussion.

Let's discuss the evidence

We can share a product demonstration using synthetic documents, a staged commercial-validation plan and a detailed investment case through controlled access.
